COIM Inaugurates New Synres Production Facility in Hoak van Holland

September 2025 – COIM Group (coimgroup.com), a multinational company that has been developing and manufacturing specialty chemicals since 1962, announces the expansion of the Synres production site located in Hoak van Holland, Netherlands.

The inauguration, scheduled for September 30, 2025, marks a strategic step for the Group, strengthening its logistical capacity and service speed in Northern European markets, with the aim of ensuring a constant supply.

COIM's presence in the Netherlands, with a second production hub dedicated to esterification products, which complements the one in Offanengo (CR), is an important milestone for the company, enhancing its international competitiveness.

Synres, acquired by COIM in January 2022, is already specialized in the production of alkyd and acrylic resins for coatings used in wood protection and decoration, as well as in the naval, car refinish, ACE, and industrial sectors. This expansion will further increase its production capacity.

"We are proud to inaugurate this new expansion, marking another chapter in COIM's growth journey. The strategic proximity to Northern European markets, combined with its privileged geographical position, will allow us to be even more present on the international stage, offering our partners and customers more efficient solutions and ensuring faster, higher-quality service. Our goal is always to continue growing and innovating while staying true to our core values" said Luca Gianzini, Marketing and M&A Manager.
